topic:

Got Business?

Helping business is good business. It helps families, communities and our economy in general. One way our state has put that into practice is with the Nebraska Advantage package. It was designed to create a business climate that makes Nebraska the preferred location for starting and growing your business. The Nebraska Advantage rewards businesses that invest in the state and hire Nebraskans.

Richard Baier, director of the Nebraska Economic Development (NDED) will share some of the success stories of this program. He'll also recap the Governor's recent trade mission to the Far East and progress of the NDED's Transportation, Distribution, Warehousing & Logistics efforts across the state.

Richard Baier has served as the director of the NDED since August 2003. His previous experience includes Director of Rural Development in Nebraska, Executive Director of the Development Corporation of North Platte, and Executive Vice President of the Greater York Area Chamber of Commerce/ York County Development Corporation.

Reservations not cancelled by noon the day prior to the event will be billed.
You also have the option to send someone in your place if you're unable to attend.
