topic:

Nebraska's Roads:

Constructing a Positive Future

Think of Nebraska's roads as the arteries which carry goods to the entire body of our state. The roads must be maintained properly or the system fails, leading to disease, and possibly death.

Obviously, maintaining our state's infrastructure is important to the trucking industry. However it's important to shippers because they need to move freight safely from Point A to Point B. It's important to everyone because if we can't move freight safely and efficiently, everyone pays more for goods and services.

John Craig, director of the Nebraska Department of Roads, will give us a broad overview of the Department, our current roads system conditions, future challenges and some possible fixes that may help us secure the healthy future of Nebraska's people and the economy.

John Craig has been the director of the Nebraska Department of Roads since 1999. He is on the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials, Intelligent Transportation Society of America, chair of the Nebraska Railway Council, and several other advisory boards.

Reservations not cancelled by noon the day prior to the event will be billed.
You also have the option to send someone in your place if you're unable to attend.
